WHAT'S THE ISSUE?	YORK IN FACTS AND FIGURES
Inequality and hidden poverty In-work poverty is an unseen and real issue within the UK and York and whilst paid work is the most important route out of poverty, a number of workers are still paid wages that are simply not enough to support them and their dependents in achieving an acceptable standard of living. We believe that everyone deserves equal access to meaningful employment and services, as well as opportunities for social and educational attainment, and are passionate about reducing poverty in York.	 7,760 people live in fuel poverty	 3 out of 5 children in some areas of York live below the poverty line
York was ranked as the 20th least affordable city in the UK in 2014	 5,930 people in York live in overcrowded housing	A child living in the worst area of York is almost 7 times more likely to be living in poverty than in the best area of York
		There are more children living in child poverty in working homes in York, than in non-working homes
		 More than 20% of workers in York are earning below the living wage The mean wage for women in York is lower than for males by £40 per week and the gap is growing
York in Action
TRCF supported 500 people suffering ill-health or distress due to the cold weather via our Surviving Winter appeal. We helped a Citizens Advice Bureau client in York, suffering from bipolar disorder and living with her two children in a damp and cold privately rented property to make her home warm and safe.
	Edible York set up a gardening group in 2012 with help from TRCF. The group is aimed at people with low skills and low confidence in learning in general and gardening in particular. It helps members with issues like financial hardship and health problems. The gardening group continues in 2015 with new participants joining and benefiting from fresh produce, companionship and learning new skills.	TRCF helped Jack Raine Foundation with £800 from our Catalyst Fund in 2012 to fund equipment for classes to encourage lifestyle changes for young ex-offenders. Attendees were referred from Third Sector, Salvation Army, York Safe Partnership and York Police.
